The way we work, the skills we need and job roles are rapidly evolving, approximately 35% of the skills required by industry will change by 2020. Sourcing skilled talent is now, according to a 2017 OECD report, a key determining factor in enabling companies to continually adapt and manage change.

Throughout the world there is evidence of the positive impact of learning which is closely aligned to the workplace.

Apprenticeships provide companies with the opportunity to participate in the training and development of their employees through partnering with local education and training providers. The range and choice of apprenticeships has increased beyond the traditional trade and construction sectors to incorporate a wide range of industries such as Manufacturing, Financial & Professional Services, ICT, Hospitality and Tourism.

With Government plans to double the number of apprentices across all industry sectors, this information event will provide a valuable insight for employers on the new Apprenticeship Earn & Learn model.

Light breakfast will be available from 7.15 am, following presentations there will be a Q&A opportunity for attendees.

Local Education & Training Providers will also be on-hand to discuss various apprenticeship & training programmes available.
